NPC - Coordinator alien - 100 years old

ATTRIBUTES		ROLL BONUS
STRENGTH	4	-3
PERCEPTION	18	4
INTELLIGENCE	25	7
WISDOM	25	7
CHARISMA	30	10
CONSTITUTION	20	5
DEXTERITY	22	6

General

JOB: Investigative agent

HP: 70

Abnormalities

Extraterrestrial

Normal ● ● ● ● ○ ○ ○ Abnormal

Skills

Ocular hypnosis (Charisma)	For a few seconds, his gaze can overwhelm a human mind, causing hesitation, confusion, or brief paralysis.	Level 3
Flexible carapace (Constitution)	A flexible exoskeleton absorbs and spreads minor impacts. Reduces physical bludgeoning damage by 3d6.	Level 3
Pheromone manipulation (Charisma)	Produces pheromone blends imperceptible to humans but highly effective on their brains. Effects vary; can control humans (passive).	Level 3
Multispectral vision (Perception)	With his compound eyes, he perceives infrared light, racing heartbeats, and tiny movements that betray lies or stress.	Level 3
Surgical reflexes (Dexterity)	His retractable limbs move with precision, allowing feats of dexterity impossible for a human: cutting, handling objects, or hacking.	Level 3

Story of the alien Coordinator

The Coordinator does not go by that name. His true identity cannot be expressed in human language: it is a combination of pheromones, frequencies, and symbolic structures that cannot be transcribed into human words. He belonged to a caste of diplomatic emissaries from an ancient civilization known for easing interstellar conflicts. His original mission was to discover why humanity had failed to take its place in the galactic community despite signs that it had mastered faster-than-light travel. He approached Earth with his companion, who would later become Old McDonald, expecting a formal welcome. Instead, they encountered the SU. The Coordinator was intercepted as soon as he entered Earth's atmosphere. This was exactly what the SU wanted: a being able to sway crowds. After his second capture, he was remade, controlled, and given a role that twisted his original purpose. Despite the forced transformation, finding his friend remained his only independent thought. The SU used that desire to make him hunt his friend relentlessly. Extremely intelligent and charismatic but physically weak, he remains one of the SU's most dangerous agents against his will. He also retains abilities native to his species.

INVENTORY

MAX: kg