René Lazare's Story

René is a former SU scientist. He originally studied alien serums and tried to uncover the secrets of SUHA so he could reproduce them. The experiments used Abnormal people. He considered this immoral, fought to end it, and helped subjects escape. Eventually the SU assigned him seven abnormality points and made him a test subject as an example. He was forced to endure five injections, each one weakening his mind. His Intelligence and Wisdom fell sharply, while his Strength, Constitution, and Perception rose dramatically. His Charisma remained unchanged. He lost his reason but retains a little control through his love for his daughter. Mentioning her can calm him and help save him from himself. If selected for the SUHA-SUHA injection, René can stand up to a PURGE unit in the final battle. A curious detail: René reproduces his own voice using the avian people's vocal mimicry ability.
